DETAILED ACTION

Receipt of applicants' remarks submitted October 8, 2003 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections 35 U.S.C. § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1, 3-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ito et al. (US Patent 5,993,714) for reasons set forth in the prior office action.
3. Claims 1, 3-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ito et al. (US Patent 5,993,714) in view of Jyonouchi et al. (IDS, March 22, 2002) in view of Anon (IDS, March 22, 2002), and Krinsky (IDS, March 22, 2002), and further in view of CRC Handbook of Toxicology (of record) for reasons set forth in the prior office action.

Response to the Arguments

Applicants' remarks submitted October 8, 2003 have been fully considered, but are not persuasive for reasons discussed below.

4. In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., treating 'health animal') are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Further, whether Ito requires other active ingredients in the feeding composition is moot. As discussed in the prior office action, the employment of lutein as antioxidant is obvious. One of ordinary skill in the art practicing Ito's method as suggested in the prior office action, would have effectively practice the claimed invention.

As to the rejections over Ito, Jyonouchi et al. Anon, Krinsky and CRC Handbook, applicants allege that Jyonouchi reference fails to suggest the usefulness of lutein for cat or dog. The arguments are not probative. It is well understood that mice is a common animal model, and a therapeutical agent effective on mice would have reasonable expected to be effective on other mammal. It the cited references as whole, one of ordinary skill in the art would have reasonably expected that lutein would be useful for enhancing immune system in mammals, including dog and cat, and therefore would have been motivated to employ lutein for feeding dog and cat.

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
